The Loss of Jerusalem

1146-1148

The Second - a failure

1149

Joceline of ~~Courtney~~ Courtenay who had been given County of Edessa by Baldwin II, successful against Nureddin, Sultan of Aleppo; but he insults enemy, who renews attack and takes Joceline prisoner.

1151

Joceline dies. Baldwin III King of Jerusalem advises widow of J. to surrender her remaining possessions to the E. Emp. Soon after this the dangers of the Latin Kingdom are shown by the ~~inroads~~ inroad of Turcomans who reach Mt of Olives, but knights of the orders follow, and Baldwin III, ~~for~~ previously absent intercepts retreat. 5000 Turcomans slain.

1153

Christians capture Ascalon from the Egyptians. The tide seemed to have turned.

1154

Baldwin III had tried to renew the alliance with Damascus but it now falls to Nureddin; this ends possible friendly relations with a Moslem prince.

1159

Manuel; E. Emp. having led an army into Cilicia reduces Reginald of Antioch to submission enters that city supported by Baldwin III. The Latin Kingdom thus loses its independence.

1161

Reginald taken and imprisoned by Nureddin.

1162

Baldwin III aged 33 dies (in one of the many forays), he had won love of subjects and admiration of enemies. No son. Almeric I his brother succeeds him, allied with E. Emp. This checks Nureddin.

1163-1167

Division amongst Moslems in Egypt. Dargham a soldier had deposed Shawer the grand Vizier (the real ruler, the Fatimite Caliphs being weak. cf. Mayors of the Palace W.E.) H. wishing to obtain power in Egypt sends generals Shiracoub and Saladin to help Shawer. Dargham sent to Almeric I for help but was worsted by Shiracouh and killed, before terms had been settled. Shawer having gained his point and fearing N orders generals to quit. Shiracouh replies by taking Pelusium. Shawer and Almeric I besiege Shiracouh in Pelusium. The Latin Kingdom King retires to meet other dangers. Shawer offers terms to Shiracouh who capitulates promising to leave Egypt.

Meanwhile N. busy in the North. He defeats Bohemond III of Antioch and Raymond II of Tripoli and takes them to Alepp. He did not take Antioch wishing first to extinguish Fatimite power. Almeric I sees this danger joins Caliph of E. Shiracouh's force overwhelmed by sand storm. Egyptians ask Almeric's continued help, his greed. Part of A's army defeated by Shiracouh and Saladin. Alexandria surrendered. Almeric ~~blockades it~~. blockades it. Agreement between Shiracouh and Almeric. The Banners of Almeric I and the Fatimite Caliph waved together over Alexandria but neither Almeric nor Nureddin had given up the idea of conquering Egypt. A quarrels with Caliph. A had married niece of Manuel, also obtains help of Hospitallers.

Almeric I leaves Jerusalem apparently for home but turns, he takes Pelusium, carnage. Shawer asks help of N but also sends a gift with promise of more to Almeric I. A's greed. N's soldiers arrive, A's ignominious retreat. He blames grand Master of Hospital. Greek fleet had appeared but sailed away again. Shiracouh supplants Shawer.

1169 Shiracouh dies. Caliph chooses Saladin thought to be pleasure loving; mistaken New yoke stronger than old. To the Latins Saladin a formidable power on south, ~~send~~ embassies to the E. Emp. and West. Only Manuel sends help.

Fruitless siege of Damietta Earthquake - Aleppo and Antioch, prevents Nureddin's progress. L's power growing. He suppresses Fatimite Caliphate so ends schism (S. Sunnite, Fatimites Shiite) but an other schism S and N.

L. formerly N's general quarrels with N.

1173-1183 N. on his way to Egypt dies (refined and generous) N's widow held Panceas. Almeric I paid not to attack it. Returns to Jerusalem to die. (avarice and meanness.) His son Baldwin IV, leper, succeeds, Guy of Lusignan husband of Sibylla, Baldwin's sister acts for him, confusion. So B IV chooses Baldwin V (Sibylla's son by 1st marriage) to succeed him; Raymond II of Tripoli regent. Joceline II guardian.

1186-1187 Baldwin IV dies and soon after Baldwin V Guy by right of wife establishes himself King. E. Emp. Heraclius and Guard Master of Temple help in this (he had earned for himself an evil name.) Raymond of Tripoli refuses allegiance. Guy besieged him in Tiberies. Raymond made treaty with Saladin. L's aim - Crescent instead of cross on Dome.) Reginald de Chatillon attacks caravan in which L's sister was travelling, so breaking treaty. A vast army gathers under L's standard, a holy war. Saladin declares intention to attack Jerusalem, but 1st assault on Tiberias. Raymond of Tripoli hastens to Jerusalem to warn Guy Master of Temple suspicious. R. advises defensive out under Conrad de Monfermat. S. offers terms to Ascalon ~~was~~ which are accepted.

Guy had rejected Raymond's advice to act on the defensive, so now J.
was practically at the mercy of Saladin.
He demands surrender but offers terms - money for inhabitants and new homes in Syria. Christians refuse at first. S's vow - if he enters Jerusalem as an armed conqueror, massacre!
for 14 days the Christians resist, then they find that the walls have been under mined near St Stephens Gate they give up hope and surrender.
